

<http://www.fce.unal.edu.co/cuadernos>

TIMELINE

DEADLINE FOR SUBMISSIONS

1st April 2018

ESTIMATED

PUBLICATION DATE

First issue of 2019

The ongoing implementation of the peace agreement with the Revolutionary Armed Forces of Colombia (FARC) poses many challenges and opportunities for the country, raising multiple questions. The journal Cuadernos de Economía invites paper submissions for a special interdisciplinary issue on the challenges and opportunities for Post-conflict Colombia. We welcome different theoretical perspectives as well as empirical studies that address, among others, the following questions: Which factors are likely to shape the prospects for peace? What are the potential consequences of the various public policies and programs that are part of the agreement? What makes the implementation of specific reforms succeed or fail? What lessons learned from other countries are particularly relevant for Colombia?

Articles should be in English, with a maximum length of 10.000 words, including references. Articles will be published as open access articles. There is no submission or publication fee.

Articles should follow the instructions for authors available in the journal website (<http://www.fce.unal.edu.co/cuadernos/pautas>). All submissions must be made through the OJS Editorial Management System at the following link:

<http://www.revistas.unal.edu.co/index.php/ceconomia>

Cuadernos de Economía is a peer-reviewed journal, founded in 1979 and indexed in Scopus, Econlit, Thomson Reuters Web of Science (former ISI)-SciELO Citation Index, Publindex, Redalyc, Latindex, Doaj, IBSS, among others. It is open to all schools of thought, and publishes theoretical and empirical works, contributing to the advance of economics, including history of thought and economic history.

GUEST EDITOR

Ana Arjona (Northwestern University)

EDITOR IN CHIEF

FRANCESCO BOGLIACINO

Universidad Nacional de Colombia, <http://www.ceconomia.unal.edu.co>